

Supporting Organisations	What They Do
Marine Stewards	Marine Stewards is a ground-up, non-profit initiative by local fishing business, anglers and academia that aims to promote a healthy fishing culture through sustainable fishing guidelines, education and outreach.
Our Singapore Reefs	Our Singapore Reefs (OSR) is a community initiative that was established in May 2017 by a group of divers who love Singapore's coral reefs. OSR aims to promote awareness about Singapore's marine biodiversity and provide a platform for academics, businesses, NGOs and agencies to work together for a common cause. This initiative will empower the public with means to conserve and protect Singapore's reefs and encourage them to be active citizens. For more information visit: www.facebook.com/oursingaporereefs and www.instagram.com/oursingaporereefs
Public Hygiene Council	The Public Hygiene Council (PHC) is an advocacy group working with partners and the public to keep Singapore clean. It was formed in 2011 to provide a community-led solution to encourage Singaporeans to take on greater ownership in maintaining the cleanliness of our shared spaces. Through fostering community partnerships, PHC aims to galvanise and coordinate ground-up efforts to improve the cleanliness and hygiene standards in Singapore.
Singapore Sailing Federation	Singapore Sailing Federation, also known as SingaporeSailing, is a registered Institution of a Public Character and the National Sports Association responsible for the management and organisation of the sport of sailing in Singapore. Strongly guided by sustainability and following the ESG (Environment, Social, and Governance) Framework, SingaporeSailing strives to build an inclusive sporting

	environment while developing a strong environmentalism spirit in the community.
Surfing Association (Singapore)	Surfing Association Singapore (SAS) is a national sports association that oversee the promotion and development of surf sports and athletes in Singapore and is a member of the International Surfing Association, the world's governing body for surf sports. SAS surf athletes will be representing Singapore for the first time in the upcoming SEA Games in the Philippines with the inaugural inclusion of surfing as one of the 2019 SEA Games events. Surfing will also make its debut in the 2020 Tokyo Olympics. As part of its surf sports development, SAS also promotes stand up paddle (SUP) sport, one of the fastest growing sports in the world and a possible inclusion in the 2024 Olympics. SAS manages a Facebook community page dedicated to the SUP sport enthusiasts and activities in and around Singapore with more than 5,000 followers and growing.

Annex Supporting Organisations

Marine Stewards

What They Do

Marine Stewards is a ground-up, non-profit initiative by local fishing business, anglers and academia that aims to promote a healthy fishing culture through sustainable fishing guidelines, education and outreach.

Our Singapore Reefs

Our Singapore Reefs (OSR) is a community initiative that was established in May 2017 by a group of divers who love Singapore's coral reefs. OSR aims to promote awareness about Singapore's marine biodiversity and provide a platform for academics, businesses, NGOs and agencies to work together for a common cause. This initiative will empower the public with means to conserve and protect Singapore's reefs and encourage them to be active citizens. For more information visit:

www.facebook.com/oursingaporereefs and www.instagram.com/oursingaporereefs

Public Hygiene Council

The Public Hygiene Council (PHC) is an advocacy group working with partners and the public to keep Singapore clean. It was formed in 2011 to provide a community-led solution to encourage Singaporeans to take on greater ownership in maintaining the cleanliness of our shared spaces. Through fostering community partnerships, PHC aims to galvanise and coordinate ground-up efforts to improve the cleanliness and hygiene standards in Singapore.

Singapore Sailing Federation

Singapore Sailing Federation, also known as SingaporeSailing, is a registered Institution of a Public Character and the National Sports Association responsible for the management and organisation of the sport of sailing in Singapore.

Strongly guided by sustainability and following the ESG (Environment, Social, and Governance) Framework, SingaporeSailing strives to build an inclusive sporting