Once this is ensured, the owner, manager or Master of the affected Singapore-registered ship shall alert MPA of the incident immediately or at the latest, within 2 hours. Alerting MPA of the incident in a timely manner is paramount for Singapore as the Flag Administration of Singapore-registered ships for information sharing with other agencies.

MPA may be informed of this initial alert in writing via email to the following addresses: shipping@mpa.gov.sg, marine@mpa.gov.sg, ivd@mpa.gov.sg and mmo@mpa.gov.sg; or verbally over the phone via the SRS Hotline at +65 62255777 (6-CALL-SRS). The initial report should be in the following format:

1. Type of incident (collision, grounding, fire, hull breach, death of a person, work accident, injury, diseases, etc)
2. Pollution to environment (if any) (pollutant-type & amount spilled)
3. Date and time (in local time and time zone)
4. Location of incident (Lat, Long, etc.)
5. Injuries (number and severity) and/or damage (location & severity) and/or pollution (pollutant type & amount spilled)
6. Current status of incident (e.g. under control/mitigation ongoing)

SINGAPORE REGISTERED SHIPS - RECOMMENDED STEPS TO TAKE IN THE EVENT OF A MARINE CASUALTY OR MARINE INCIDENT (AIDE-MEMOIRE)

In any marine casualty¹ or marine incident², the guiding principle is to take immediate steps to ensure the safety of life at sea, protection of the marine environment and to prevent further deterioration of the situation.

2 Thereafter, the marine safety investigation process that requires interaction with the crew and other parties could be initiated. In this regard, an aide-memoire to assist Masters in the aftermath of a marine casualty or marine incident would be appropriate.

3 It is strongly recommended that those involved in shipboard safety take measures to consider including the salient points contained in the attached aide-memoire into the shipboard emergency response action plan.

4 Any queries should be directed to MPA Ship Investigation Department at ivd@mpa.gov.sg.

¹ A marine casualty means an event, or a sequence of events, that has resulted in any of the following which has occurred directly in connection with the operations of a ship:

- .1 the death of, or serious injury to, a person;
- .2 the loss of a person from a ship;
- .3 the loss, presumed loss or abandonment of a ship;
- .4 material damage to a ship;
- .5 the stranding or disabling of a ship, or the involvement of a ship in a collision;
- .6 material damage to marine infrastructure external to a ship, that could seriously endanger the safety of the ship, another ship or an individual; or
- .7 severe damage to the environment, or the potential for severe damage to the environment, brought about by the damage of a ship or ships.

However, a marine casualty does not include a deliberate act or omission, with the intention to cause harm to the safety of a ship, an individual or the environment.

² A marine incident means an event, or sequence of events, other than a marine casualty, which has occurred directly in connection with the operations of a ship that endangered, or, if not corrected, would endanger the safety of the ship, its occupants or any other person or the environment. However, a marine incident does not include a deliberate act or omission, with the intention to cause harm to the safety of a ship, an individual or the environment.

FAQs

- Q1 What happens if I could not report to the Director of Marine within 24 hours?
- A Under exceptional circumstances, this would be permitted with supporting justification.
- Q2 Do I have to report even though there is no apparent damage to my ship?
- A Yes, always report any casualties or incidents no matter how minor (reporting by itself does not have any adverse statutory implications). As a guide, report any casualties or incidents that could, or would endanger safety of life or protection of the marine environment.
- Q3 What if the other ship refuses to exchange particulars?
- A At the least, note the ship’s name and flag. A photograph would be helpful.
- Q4 Can I amend the “MPA Report of Marine Casualty or Marine Incident” after it has been submitted?
- A Yes, you can either re-submit a new report or indicate the amendments (in writing).

^v Statement

It is worth emphasizing the importance to distinguish between facts and opinions. Facts can normally be supported by evidence whereas opinions are personal views based on beliefs rather than absolute evidence (but can be useful in pursuing a particular line of inquiry and should not be automatically disregarded).

In addition, incriminating details are of no relevance at this stage e.g. phrases like “according to company’s policy, XXX is not supposed to keep independent watch, XXX was recently promoted but is incompetent because he likes to sleep while on duty” etc.
